RICHARD PROCESS	ART	SERRA MOVEMENT occur in conjunction with the rise and fall of the tide.

The vertical motion of the tides near the shore causes the water to move horizontally, creating currents. When a tidal current moves toward the land and away from the sea, it “floods.” When it moves toward the sea away from the land, it “ebbs.”

P r o c e s s A r t is an artistic movement as well as a creative sentiment where the end product of art and craft is not the principal focus. The ‘process’ in process art refers to the process of the formation of art: the gathering, sorting, collating, associating, patterning, and moreover the initiation of actions and proceedings. Process art is concerned with the actual doing and how actions can be defined as an actual work of art; seeing the art as pure human expression.

Tidal Circulation x
Process Art Movement

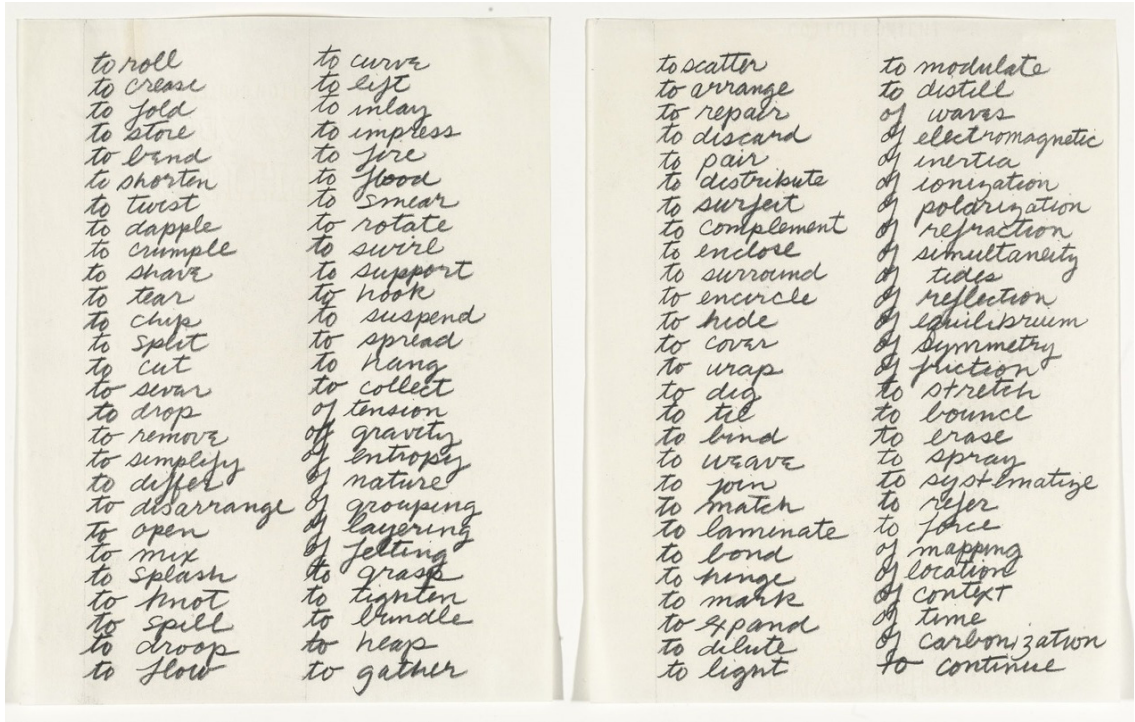

The slack water between the ebbing and flooding period mimics the static result of process art. Neither function is the primal focus, but the in-between of what is and what is not. Tidal Circulation x Process Art are forever generating and so are we.
